Top Fuel racer

Ida Zetterström is one of the most exciting new names in NHRA Top Fuel. Debuting in NHRA with JCM Racing in 2024 after dominating the European drag racing scene and picking up several Championships and records. Ida brings elite performance, international appeal, and a fresh, marketable presence to the NHRA stage. THE HISTORY

Ida Zetterström

Born in Sweden and raised around racetracks across Scandinavia, Ida Zetterström began racing at just eight years old in Jr. Dragster. She quickly progressed through the ranks, earning wins on both two and four wheels, and in 2019 became the first woman and youngest competitor to win the Scandinavian Super Street Bike championship - twice.

Her lifelong dream was Top Fuel dragster, drag racing's premier category. After earning her Top Fuel license in 2021 with the quickest FIA licensing run in history, she went on to break European records for elapsed time (3.77 seconds) and speed (321 mph), and captured the 2023 FIA European Top Fuel championship.

While Ida was happy with her European success, she had her sights set on competing in the world's most prestigious and highly competitive drag racing series, the National Hot Rod Association (NHRA). In 2024, Ida moved to the U.S. to chase her NHRA dreams, debuting with JCM Racing in the late summer. She immediately turned heads by reaching the semifinals in her first NHRA race and was named Best New Talent by NHRA's National Dragster magazine, an award voted on by the fans.

"Ida's personality is one that keeps her always in motion, always learning, and always trying new things.

In whatever she does, she doesn't just want to participate - she wants to compete and wants to dominate.

She considers herself stubborn in that regard.

However, despite being one of the most driven people you could ever meet, Ida is one of the most approachable, bubbly, down-to-earth, personable people on the planet. That is something that will help in her drive toward the next goal."
